

First Wednesdays CAFe CENTER FOR ARCHIVAL FUTURES at the CAFE

Presidential
Transitions and Presidential
Libraries: Past,
Present and Future
Gary M. Stern

Gary M. Stern has been the General Counsel of the National Archives and Records

Administration since 1998, and is a career member of the Senior Executive Service. Mr. Stern also serves as NARA's Chief Freedom of Information Act Officer, Senior Agency Official for Privacy, Senior Agency Official for Controlled Unclassified Information and Dispute Resolution Specialist.

In this talk Mr. Stern promises to share with us his personal insights on presidential record controversies, starting from the last days of the Reagan Administration up to the latest events of the Trump Administration that we have been witnessing in real time.

Click Here for Zoom Link